

A colorful illustration of a village scene. In the top right corner, a bright red sun with yellow rays is visible. The background features rolling green hills. In the foreground, there is a yellow bus with black wheels and windows. To the left of the bus, there are two green pine trees and a small brown house with a red roof. Further back, there are two more houses: one with a red roof and one with a blue roof. A green tree stands to the right of the bus. On the far left, there is a green street sign on a pole. The overall style is simple and cartoonish.
